To Whom It May Concern:

I recommend PRelocate's exemplary consulting services to anyone wishing to move to Puerto Rico. PRelocate handled my Act 20 and Act 22 applications, and I use their virtual mailbox mail forwarding service. My applications have since been approved, and I have engaged them to assist in the LLC filing for my Puerto Rican business.

I was most impressed with the responsiveness of the PRelocate team. I always received prompt responses to my questions and one-on-one support through the entire process. When required, they provided me with recommendations, including for tax attorneys, CPAs, realtors, and other expeditors. PRelocate even provides a free guide for newcomers to Puerto Rico that contains incredibly helpful advice and resources, and their online Presence Tracking tool has been immensely helpful. These resources and tools have helped me to maximize my savings and make the most of life in Puerto Rico. I particularly appreciated meeting others who had recently relocated to Puerto Rico at the PRelocate client appreciation event.

PRelocate's process was streamlined and transparent: the team committed to precise milestones and fully adhered to the process. With their experience in the industry, they gave realistic deadlines that ensured timely delivery without compromising the quality. The team was truly focused on executing each step in my business and personal applications. Because their Act 20 services were free and their Act 22 service fee was incredibly low, this exceptional service quality came at little to no cost.

PRelocate is reliable and dedicated to its clients, and their team did an outstanding job completing my applications. They made the overall application process significantly easier, and my experience working with them far exceeded my expectations. Working with Pilar and her team was the best decision I could have made when it came to relocation, and I have already recommended them to friends and family who are thinking about moving to Puerto Rico.

To Whom It May Concern:

As a new Puerto Rico resident and Act 20 recipient, I am writing to strongly recommend the services of PRelocate. PRelocate helped me by walking me through the Act 20 application process to ensure I would derive the maximum benefits from the preferential tax treatment here—without paying a fortune in fees. Equally importantly, operations manager Pilar Rivera and her team facilitated my relocation to Puerto Rico by giving me practical advice about moving here.

In addition to having been referred to PRelocate by a friend who is also a satisfied client, I chose to work with the company because of their business model: they offer a free consulting service for completing the application to move one's business to Puerto Rico. Because my consulting business has a simple business model, this option was ideal for me, and it saved me thousands of dollars in fees.

The PRelocate team not only helped me to quickly form a limited liability company but also worked with me to draft the eligible services description so that all services were included. I had to pay only the government filing fees—everything else was free. When the government sent the draft decree for us to review, Pilar facilitated the communication with the government about the changes I wanted to request. When the application was approved, Pilar provided detailed instructions on how to complete the final steps in the Act 20 application process. Because I had not fully completed the move to Puerto Rico, I signed up for the company's virtual address service, which further smoothed the process.

The service I received was on par with the services a CPA or tax attorney would provide to submit the application. Moreover, throughout the process, the PRelocate team was responsive to my emails and questions—and they remain responsive. This underscores PRelocate's commitment to client satisfaction.

Although my main concern was my Act 20 application, PRelocate also gave me invaluable advice about the practicalities of moving to Puerto Rico. The company provides a free guide that covers everything from setting up utilities, internet, and cable to getting a driver's license. The resources I accessed through PRelocate considerably smoothed my transition to life in Puerto Rico, as has the personal advice they've been happy to provide.

While more complex cases might require the input of a tax attorney, PRelocate will still be able to assist with completing the application, compiling the required paperwork, and navigating the complex submission process. Thus, you would still save a significant amount of money without compromising on quality. I was extremely satisfied with PRelocate's services, and I recommend them to anyone thinking about relocating to Puerto Rico. It has been a pleasure working with Pilar and her team.

Sincerely,

To Whom It May Concern:

In 2019, I decided to relocate to Puerto Rico to take advantage of the personal and business tax benefits available through Act 60 (then Acts 20 and 22). Because I found the application process daunting, I searched for a consulting firm to help me prepare and submit my Act 20 application. I was delighted with the service I received from Pilar Rivera and her team at PRelocate.

After an initial introductory call, I met personally with Pilar, PRelocate's operations manager. She advised me to seek the advice of a tax attorney to determine the best corporate structure and tax strategy because the structure of my business was somewhat complex.

Ultimately, I decided to work both with PRelocate and an attorney. PRelocate assisted in the entity formation and the entire Act 60 application process, while the tax attorney reviewed the description of eligible services to fit the structure of my business.

I appreciated PRelocate's honest and straightforward advice, which allowed me to bring in an attorney to help maximize my tax savings while still saving a significant amount by having PRelocate handle the application process. My business is now in its second year, and on my latest tax returns I have saved several thousands of dollars in taxes thanks to PRelocate's assistance.

I was further impressed with PRelocate's recommendations, resources, and guidance on the relocation process. The team was always eager to help, and their recommendations made moving here much easier.

I believe PRelocate had my best interests at heart, which is why I am happy to recommend their services to anyone who is thinking about relocating to Puerto Rico. I am confident that newcomers to Puerto Rico will be equally delighted with the service they receive.

Yours sincerely,
